Review rating: No Shortage

Employer and industry comments/current labour market

A survey of employers who had recently advertised for dietitians was undertaken for this review. In addition, a small number of employers were canvassed despite not having recently advertised. Sixty per cent of advertised vacancies were filled within six weeks of advertising, lower than the 87 per cent when this occupation was last assessed in May 2008.

A small number of employers reported that their advertised vacancies were filled within two weeks of advertising and about half of the employers surveyed had received multiple suitable applicants for their positions. Some of the unfilled positions had specific requirements such as experience at a senior level, indigenous knowledge or the ability to undertake frequent travel.

Labour Market Outlook

There is no evidence to suggest that there will be any significant change in the labour market for dietitians over the next six months.
